Fat Salvage Still Needed

The American Fat Salvage committee was given well as in our own! A glorious era! an official government mandate today to accelerate the collection of used cooking fat to offset the most serious fats and oils shortage in this country's history.

American Fat Salvage committee, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson says:

"V-J Day still leaves us alarmingly short of fats and oils. Because we will continue to be seriously short of these essential commodities for months to come, it is just as important now as during the war to save every bit of used fat.

"American women can help us win this postwar battle of supply in their own kitchens. I urge you and all members of your committe to help us drive home this vital necessity in every possible way."

gram, Peet said:

"We of the American Fat Salvage Committee are pledged to do all that we can to meet the shortage of fats and oils underscored by Secretary Anderson in his Billions of Vets' Lapsed telegram of today. However, we can only be effective in meeting this national shortage if we receive one hundred percent support of the American public, particularly from the women who cook at home for themselves and their families. During the war used fat served a dramatic purpose aiding in making available ammunition, military medicines and other munitions for our fighting men. Now, the uses of kitchen fats are is stated by the Institute of Life Insurance. less spectacular but no less important. Fats and oils will be needed in large supply during the time of industrial reconversion and the change-over from war to a peace time economy.

"We of this committee are confident that American women will meet this challenge of peace in the same fine far-sighted patriotic spirit with which they met the situation during actual hostilities.

"For us of this committee and for women all over the United States the emergency is not over until we are again back upon a peacetime footing with full fats and oils supply for industrial and domestic use, and for the use of our allies."

Wood Sugar

In a year an acre of choice forest land can produce more sugar for industrial use than an acre of sugar beets. A ton of sawdust is good for nearly as much sugar as a ton of blackstrap molasses. Wood sugar is marketed in Europe for cooking and table use. It is an edible mixture of glucose starch syrup and other sugars.

Blinded Soldier, A Hopeless Case, Recovers Sight

Sees His Girl Friend First Time; His Sight Just Suddenly Returns.

ATLANTIC CITY. - An arms private, blinded in battle some months ago, who had been told by army doctors that he never would see again, woke one morning in his hospital bed here to the astounding discovery that his sight had been restored, says a special to the New York Herald-Tribune.

Officials at the Thomas M. England General hospital revealed the story, and added that his surprise was no greater than their own. They passed the next four hours checking the records and sharing their amazement. Pvt. William Myers of Greensburg, Pa., passed his time far more sensibly. First he saw, for the first time, his girl friend: then he saw his mother and sister; then he saw a moving pic-

Private Myers is 21 years old, and was a machine gunner with the 7th armored division, On July 7, 1944, he was in a unit in the push on Paris when German artillery found the range of his group; he felt "a big crashing in my head" and was totally blind at that moment.

Treated in Europe.

He was treated in Europe, where his left eye was removed; then returned to this country. Doctors said his right eye would never see again. In December he went to the Valley

He needed additional surgery, and was transferred to the English hospital here. The days passed slowly, until he woke one morning to the realization that a nurse was taking his temperature. He explained later little while, but when he was able to describe, stone by stone, the color | Christensen Sales Co., Mgrs., of her bracelet she realized what had happened, and there was a quiet, almost tearful celebration.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Carl Myers, his mother, and Mrs. Barbara Youravich, his sister, had arrived to visit

They walked into his room and Private Myers looked up. "Barbara," he said to his sister, "don't you ever wear anything but a black dress and that old red coat?" Barbara laughed. She assumed that Miss Peppelman had told him what she was wearing.

It took even longer to convince the family. Before they began to realize that neither he nor Miss Peppelman was joking, they had left the hospital, and he was walking along the boardwalk, pointing to a flag, describing people's clothes and finally reading a number plate on an automobile.

Suddenly both Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Youravich realized that this was not all a strange joke.

Back at the hospital, the doctor in charge of eye ailments examined Private Myers, and assured him the eye was as good as normal -perhaps a little better. It would never trouble him again, the doctor

Billfold in His Pocket

Stops a German Bullet AUBURN, IND: - Pfc. Glenn A. Wyatt, son of Mrs. Luella Wyatt, stopped a German machinegun bul-let and lived to tell about it. While in action on the French front, Wyatt felt something hit him just above the heart.

When he investigated, he found the slug had gone through his gas mask and stopped halfway through the billfold he had in his shirt pocket. He was later hospitalized because he slipped in the mud and struck his knee on something.

Squirrels Wake Him Up At Midnight for Nuts

HILLSDALE. — Two fox squirrels think nothing of waking up Charles Wakeman every midnight for a hickory nut snack, and this has been going on for some time, according to Mr. Wakeman.

Wakeman says the squirrels scratch at his window every night until he lets them in. They live in a nest outside Wakeman's window.
